The effect of Opiate Integrated Treatment including Methadone and Buprenorphine /Naloxone (Suboxone®) Maintenance Treatment for Injecting Drug Users at community in Ho Chi Minh City, Viet Nam

Funding country: France
Project starting year: 2012
Project ending year: 2017
Area(s) of research:
- Prevention responses
- Treatment responses
- Harm reduction responses
- Determinants of drug use
- Consequences of drug use
- Mechanism of drug use and effects
- Supply and markets
- Methodology issues

Objectives:
To adapt to the Vietnam context the methods of effective treatments of opiate related addiction that have been validated in Europe and North America.

Scientific discipline(s) involved:
- Anthropology
- History
- Psychology
- Sociology
- Other medical sciences
- Addictology

Objectives (native):

Initial identified needs:
To increase the access to opiate addiction treatment and make addiction treatment more accessible in Vietnam.

Initial identified needs (native):
Augmenter l'accès aux soins de la toxicomanie opiacés et rendre accessible les traitements de la dépendance aux opiacés au Vietnam.

Performed by:
Phénoménologie et déterminants des comportements appétitifs, addictologie et psychiatrie / Sanpsy CNRS USR 3413
GIP ESTHER, Paris, France
University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, USA

Funded by:
NIDA, ANRS

Summary references:

Published reference(s):